

EUROPE

News by the Atlantic Cable to the 18th inst.

NAPOLEON'S MANIFESTO PUBLISHED.

The Recent Changes in Europe Considered Favorable to France.

The Emperor's Mediation Between the Late Belligerents Justified.

A Lasting European Peace Believed in by the Emperor.

Napoleon Reaffirms the Nationality Principle.

The Question of the Venetian Debt in a Fair Way of Amicable Settlement.

FRANC OFFICERS FORBIDDEN TO ACCEPT OFFICE UNDER MAXIMILIAN.

Prussian War Vessels Put out of Commission.

THE PRUSSIAN ELECTORAL LAWS PASSED IN THE UPPER CHAMBER.

The Last Chapter in the Attempted Assassination of the Czar.

Financial, Commercial, and Shipping Intelligence.

FRANCE.

THE EMPEROR NAPOLEON'S MANIFESTO.

The French circular says that the recent changes in Europe are favorable to France, Prussia and Italy are drawn nearer in ideas and interest. Austria now has no hostile intent. The Convention of Rome will be loyally carried out. Navies of second class powers assure the liberty of the Baltic and the Mediterranean.

The note justifies the offer of the Emperor's mediation between Prussia and Austria and Italy, and hints at the annexation of people of the same language and interests to any of the powers of Europe.

It shows the necessity of perfect defense and military organization, not, however, as a threat, and expresses a belief in lasting peace in Europe.

AUTHORSHIP OF THE MANIFESTO.

PARIS, Tuesday, Sept. 18.—None.

The belief is general that Napoleon himself was the author of the note recently made public, and that his sincere desire is for a permanent peace.

FRANC OFFICERS IN MEXICO.

PARIS, Monday, Sept. 17.—p. m.

It is said that the Emperor Napoleon has refused to hold office in Mexico, owing to the protest of the United States Government.

PRUSSIA.

THE ELECTORAL LAW.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1866.

The Electoral law, at length, passed the Upper House of Prussia.

THE PRUSSIAN NAVY.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1866.

The Prussian fleet, in the harbor of Kiel, has been put out of commission, and there are evidences on all sides of a general disarmament.

AUSTRIA.

THE EXILE POLSKY.

VIENNA, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1866.

The Emperor of Austria has concluded to permit the exile Polisky to live in Hungary. It is said he will take up his quarters in Pesth, in that province.

ITALY.

THE QUADRILATERAL.

FLORENCE, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1866.

Gen. Ruel of the Italian Army, left Florence to go for Venice, in order to superintend the arrangements for the transfer of the forts of the Quadrilateral to Venetia.

THE VENETIAN DEBT.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1866.

France and Prussia are heartily in favor of the proposal of Menebraes with regard to the Venetian debt.

RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Monday, Sept. 17, 1866.

The man who attempted to assassinate the Czar several months ago, has been executed.

There has been a grand popular demonstration of respect to the Emperor, and joy at the punishment of his would-be murderer.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

THE SHIPMENT GREAT EASTERN.

LIVERPOOL, Monday, Sept. 17, p. m.—The steamship Great Eastern, from Harb's Content, is off Fastnet.

ARRIVAL OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, Sept. 18.—The steamship City of New-York, of the James Line, from New-York Sept. 8, arrived here to-day. After landing London mails and passengers she proceeded to Liverpool.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

LONDON, Monday evening, Sept. 17.—Consols closed at 94 1/2.

LONDON, Tuesday, Sept. 18.—The money market is quiet. Consols opened at 94 1/2 for money.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Evening.—The money market is without change. Consols closed at 94 1/2 for money.

AMERICAN SECURITIES.

United States Five-twenty, 74; Erie Shares, 64; Illinois Central, 78.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—None.—American securities are generally without change, although Erie has advanced 1/4. The following are the quotations: Erie shares, 67; Illinois Central shares, 74; United States Five-twenty, 74.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Evening.—The following are the closing prices of American securities: Erie shares 67; Illinois Central shares 74; U. S. 5-20s 74.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 17.—Evening.—Midling Uplands Cotton is quoted at 10 1/2. The Tallow market is firmer. The Broad-street market is firm.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 18.—None.—The Cotton market opened firmer, with an advance of 1/4 on the American. The sales to-day aggregate 13,000 bales. Midling Uplands is quoted at 10 1/2.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 18.—Evening.—The advance of this morning was not sustained, and prices for Midling Uplands closed at 10 1/2. The sales to-day have reached 20,000 bales.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 18.—Evening.—The Breadstuffs market is generally unchanged. Corn closed at 27/6 for Mixed. The market for Lard continues dull.

THE STEAMSHIP NEW-YORK, WHICH LEFT ASPINWALL 20th, arrived yesterday. She brought the following amounts of specie:

Wells Fargo & Co.	96,790 72	Total.....	$1,215,072 77
Lees & Walker.....	438,000 00

PANAMA CITY—QUEEN EMMA EN ROUTE HOME—NATIONAL POLITICS IN COLOMBIA—THE RECENT ADDITION TO THE CHILIAN NAVY—REVIVAL OF

PANAMA CITY.—QUEEN EMMA EN ROUTE HOME.—NATIONAL POLITICS IN PANAMA.—THE REVOLUTION IN PANAMA.—THE CHILIAN NAVY.—REVIVAL OF BUSINESS AT VALPARAISO.—IMPORTANT TREATY BETWEEN BOLIVIA AND CHILI.—THE MUTINY IN THE PERUVIAN NAVY.—STROGO FEELING IN ECUADOR AGAINST SPAIN.

The steamer New-York, from New-York, reached Aspinwall on the 19th inst. Her mails and passengers sailed hence on the Sacramento on the same evening.

Since my last the only item of importance is the meeting of the State Legislature, and the announcement of the election of Gen. Vincente Ochoa as our future State President. He may have got 500 votes, but is reported officially to have got 19,000.

We are likely to have a collision with the General Government at Bogota, if the two powers could not settle their differences as they are at present. For Mosquera must think the people here a very rebellious one.

The large guns purchased in the States for Chili have finally been taken to their destination. The Chilean fleet is now at Valparaiso, and the Chilean army is at the front. The neutrality laws to the contrary notwithstanding.

We have dates from Valparaiso to the 17th of August, that the principal object of the loan lately contracted was to pay for the ships of the Chilean fleet, and for the arms of the Chilean army. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

The Government is really in the greatest difficulties, and is surrounded by its agents abroad, especially in the United States. After numerous fruitless efforts of the Chilean agents in the United States to purchase the class of ships required by the Government of Chili, the latter has at last decided to allow the Chilean agents to purchase abroad. Two of them, the Henriette and Neshanock, have already arrived at Valparaiso; the first is an excellent dispatch boat, but the latter turns out to be no better than an ordinary transport possessing good speed and good accommodations, but in no other way adapted to war purposes. This disappointment gives rise to grave accusations against the Government for not having provided the country with a formidable squadron.

RECONSTRUCTION.

LETTER FROM PETER COOPER TO PRESIDENT JOHNSON. ARTHUR JOHNSON, President of the United States.

MY DEAR SIR: It has been with heartfelt sorrow that I have witnessed the conflict of opinion that has unfortunately prevailed between yourself and the Congress of the United States, in relation to matters believed to be vital to the welfare of our common country.

Such differences of opinion, when honestly entertained and sometimes violently contended for, show the reason why charity is the greatest of all virtues, because the exercise of charity is so constantly required to enable us to bear with the weaknesses and imperfections of each other.

There is, I believe, no better way to reconcile differences of opinion than to get a full understanding of the causes out of which such misunderstandings originate.

A little reflection on the almost al